

HOW TO APPLY FOR A ROTATOR POSITION AT NSF

Available rotator positions are advertised on the National Science Foundation's Web site at <http://www.nsf.gov/about/>. To access them:

- Click on "Career Opportunities."
- Scroll down to "Current Vacancies" and click on "Scientific and Professional."
- Select your Directorate of Choice from the dropdown menu and open your desired position.

Positions are classified as Visiting Scientist, Engineer, and Educator (VSEE), Intergovernmental Personnel Act (IPA) assignee, or both. Rotational appointments have different implications for length of appointment, type of appointment, and benefits. For more information on the differences between VSEE and IPA, visit http://www.nsf.gov/about/career_opps/rotators/.

Interested individuals may also contact the relevant NSF program office or the Division of Human Resource Management. Most vacancies are also posted on <http://www.usajobs.gov>.

SHARE IN THE DISCOVERY

For more information about career opportunities at NSF, please visit http://www.nsf.gov/about/career_opps/rotators/.

National Science Foundation
4201 Wilson Boulevard, Arlington, VA 22230
Tel: 703-292-8180 FIRS: 1-800-877-8339 TTY
Visit us on Facebook!